

THE EX-GAY SURVIVOR CONFERENCE

Undoing the Damage
Affirming our Lives Together

JUNE 29 - JULY 1, 2007

UC Irvine, California

Many of us tried to change our sexuality in multiple ways, from dressing and acting in more gender normative ways to actually attending ex-gay programs or receiving therapy. Why did we do it? What harm did it caused? What good, if any, came of it? How does it affect us today? How does this ex-gay past affect our current relationships with others?

As people who now embrace our sexual orientation and identity, we have not always had the opportunity to unpack that time in our lives when we tried to change. The Ex-Gay Survivor Conference will give us a chance to explore these issues, meet with other survivors, and process our stories through art, talk and interactive workshops.

Most of all, it will be a space to share with fellow survivors how we've moved beyond our ex-gay experiences to develop into the healthy people we have become and are becoming.
